

CYBER RESILIENCE AND COLLABORATION

EMPOWERING LEADERS IN PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SECTORS

June 7th - 9th, 2024

EXECUTIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM OVERVIEW

---

The U.S. National Cybersecurity Strategy emphasizes that digital transformations pose urgent risks, and solutions must extend beyond information-sharing between the private sector and government to achieve cyber resilience.

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) Cybersecurity Program is offering an intensive ten hour executive education course on cyber resilience and collaboration for senior technology and cyber leaders in the public- and private-sectors.

KEY TOPICS

---

- Cyber resilience essentials
- Evolution of cyber threats
- Strategic cyber risk forecasting
- Building your cyber resilience plan
- Team-based cyber security strategies
- Engaging leadership in cyber initiatives

PROGRAM DETAILS

- Location: New York City @ Columbia University
- Dates: June 7th - 9th, 2024
- Duration: Weekend immersion to include ~14 hours of academic instruction
- Features: Weekend study, dinners, and networking events

WHY THIS COURSE?

- Real-World Expertise: Learn from leaders with experience in the highest echelons of cyber security, including the White House and top private firms.
- Certificate of Completion: Earn a recognized credential from Columbia University.
- Expand Your Network: Join a community of peers and experts for ongoing learning and opportunities.

WHO SHOULD ENROLL?

---

-  Private and public sector cyber leaders
-  High-ranking military officials
-  Government officials seeking advanced cyber strategies

SCAN TO APPLY

CYBER RESILIENCE AND COLLABORATION

EMPOWERING LEADERS IN PUBLIC AND PRIVATE SECTORS

June 7th - 9th, 2024

COURSE LEADERSHIP

Jason Healey, SIPA’s cyber lead, has a 25-year history in cybersecurity, including senior positions at the White House and Goldman Sachs. He is the former vice chair of the Financial Services Information Sharing and Analysis Center, the central cyber sharing and collaboration organization of the finance sector.

Greg Rattray, a SIPA adjunct, brings deep experience from the military, White House, and finance sector, including as the former top cybersecurity executive (CISO) of JP Morgan Chase and leader of the Cyber Defense Assistance Collaborative for Ukraine.

The course will be supported by the Picker Center for Executive Education, founded in 1999. The Center allows us to bring in distinguished Columbia faculty on location in New York and in Washington DC.

WHY COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY?

Based in New York City, our cyber security and resilience research and courses are innovative and influential. For instance, our New York Cyber Task Force’s work on enhancing Internet defense significantly influenced the White House’s National Cybersecurity Strategy and the creation of a public-private joint Cyber Defense Collaborative by the Cyber and Infrastructure Security Agency.

You will learn from SIPA’s unique team led by some of the world’s top authorities in the business and national security dynamics of cybersecurity and resilience. Our faculty combine their long histories as cyber practitioners in the private sector, military, intelligence, and White House with deep credentials in academia and instruction.

PROGRAM FEES

EARLY ENROLLMENT	Before April 1, 2024	$3,500
STANDARD ENROLLMENT	April 2024	$4,000
LATE ENROLLMENT	May & June 2024	$4,500